AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL LAW ASSOCIATION 32nd ANNUAL AGRICULTURAL LAW SYMPOSIUM

October 20-22, 2011 Austin, Texas

An Excellent Learning Opportunity

For 32 years the American Agricultural Law Association (AALA) has provided lawyers, educators, students and those in the agribusiness community with the very latest information on relevant matters dealing with agriculture. The 2011 conference will continue this tradition of excellence at a time when agricultural lawyers are facing change every day.

"Transitions in Agricultural Law" is the theme of the conference which will provide practical information in the traditional areas of agricultural law as well as providing important new information in the emerging areas. Popular updates will be provided which are essential for every practitioner to know: commercial law, tax law, agricultural bankruptcy, environmental law, food law and land use law. There will be individual break-out sessions which will expand the themes from the updates and introduce new topics, such as animal welfare litigation, challenges for food safety regulation, migrant worker issues and antitrust issues. For the practitioner wanting practical information for immediate use there are sessions on assisting new farmers, family farm partnerships, farm estate planning and finding money, time and knowledge for clients. The conference will also feature expanded opportunities for student participants who will present current research projects during the student symposium. There will be numerous opportunities to network and socialize with colleagues. We look forward to seeing you in Austin!

Amy Swanson, AALA President-Elect

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL LAW ASSOCIATION

The AALA is a national professional non-profit organization focusing on the legal issues affecting agriculture. It provides a network through which those with an interest in agricultural law, practitioners, educators, government attorneys, policymakers, researchers, and those in the industry can share information and ideas. The AALA stands as an independent forum investigating innovative, workable solutions to agricultural law problems.

While you do not have to be a member of the American Agricultural Law Association (AALA) to attend our symposium, membership has many benefits. By joining now, you can qualify for the member discount for the 2011 and 2012 conferences (a $100 value) and enjoy membership benefits for all of 2012.

AALA members receive a newsletter, The Agricultural Law Update, and are listed in our online membership directory, an excellent source of information and referral. But perhaps the most valued member benefit is the opportunity to network with agricultural law professionals throughout the United States.

Membership dues are $90 for regular members, $60 for professionals within three years of graduating from college or professional school, $90 for regular members outside North America (with subscription to e-mail version of Update), $125 for regular members outside North America (with subscription to print version of Update), $30 for student members, $175 for sustaining members, and $250 for institutional members (includes 3 regular memberships). To join, complete the membership form included with the conference registration form or online at www.aglaw-assn.org or call the AALA administrative office at (360) 200-5699.

Questions?

For more information about the conference or the AALA, please contact:

Robert Achenbach, AALA Executive Director, 127 Young Rd., Kelso, WA 98626

Ph. 360-200-5699 Fax: 360-423-2287 E-mail: RobertA@aglaw-assn.org

CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION CREDIT

Be sure to indicate on your registration form the state(s) for which you wish to apply for Continuing Legal Education Credit (CLE). CLE accreditation will be requested in states requiring accreditation. This program will include 900 minutes of legal education including two hours (120 minutes) of legal ethics. In most cases, all costs associated with CLE pre-accreditation are prepaid. In a few states, attorneys may be required to submit additional fees when applying for their individual credit. Each attendee will be provided with a Certificate of Attendance in triplicate, a copy of which will be submitted to the state CLE boards which require reporting of attendance and a copy kept in our records.

If you wish to receive educational credit for another profession, please indicate your interest on the registration form and send us information on requesting accreditation for the conference.

Thank You to Our Sponsors!

We would like to mention our early sponsors for the conference. We anticipate additional organizations will be joining these as the conference approaches. Sponsors have provided descriptions of their organizations listed below.

ZS Brady & Co., Lubbock, TX - Small Firm Gold Sponsor

Attorneys in the Lubbock, Texas law office of ZS Brady & Co. provide superior representation to individuals and businesses throughout the South Plains and the State of Texas in a range of practice areas, including administrative law, agricultural law, commercial litigation, eminent domain and condemnation, and water law.

Lawler & Swanson, P.L.C., Parkersburg, IA - Small Firm Gold Sponsor

Lawler & Swanson, P.L.C. is a general practice firm with offices in Parkersburg and Greene, Iowa. Its focus is primarily in probate, tax, estate planning and real estate, and it represents producers on USDA farm program matters at all levels. Thomas A. Lawler and Amy K. Swanson are the two attorneys in the firm. Tom is a former president of AALA and Amy is President-elect. Tom received the AALA Distinguished Service Award in 2009.

Farm Credit System - Friday morning breakfast and Saturday morning breakfast

The Farm Credit System is a nationwide network of borrower-owned lending institutions and specialized service organizations. Farm Credit provides more than $160 billion in loans, leases, and related services to farmers, ranchers, rural homeowners, aquatic producers, timber harvesters, agribusinesses, and agricultural and rural utility cooperatives.

Gardner Law, San Antonio, TX - Saturday morning coffee break

Gardner Law has earned an outstanding reputation by providing exceptional legal services to governmental entities, foreign and domestic businesses and individuals. Founded in 1972, the firm has a commercial business and litigation practice. Firm attorneys are experienced in dispute resolution and serve as mediators and arbitrators. The attorney responsible for the content of this statement is R. Wes Johnson.

You Can Contribute Too!

The AALA has been fortunate in the generosity of its members through service and financial support.

Would your organization like to promote your expertise in agricultural law and your commitment to AALA by sponsoring a reception, luncheon or coffee break?? Please contact executive director Robert Achenbach at RobertA@aglaw-assn.org to sponsor any aspect of the 2011 conference in Austin.

CONFERENCE HOTEL

500 E. 4th St., Austin, TX 78701

The Hilton Austin Hotel is located in downtown Austin within easy walking distance of the historic Old Market area. Guest rooms for attendees are available at $179.00+tax for single and double occupancy, $199+ for triple and $219+ for quad-occupancy. The conference rate is also available for a very small number of rooms for two days before and the last day of the conference. For reservations, call 1-800-236-1592. Be sure to identify yourself as attending the American Agricultural Law Association conference. All blocked rooms return to retail price on September 27, 2011. This should be a well-attended conference so reserve your room early. If the block fills, contact RobertA@aglaw-assn.org and he will seek block expansion.

CANCELLATIONS

To cancel your registration, contact the AALA office at (360) 200-5699 by 5 p.m. Pacific Time on October 10, 2011. Prior to October 11, 2011, registration fees, minus a $10 processing fee, will be refunded. No refunds will be given after October 10, 2011; however, we will send your handbook to you.

CONFERENCE HANDBOOKS

All attendees must choose whether to receive the conference written materials in printed form or on CD. See the registration form for selection of your choice.

Printed Handbooks:

Because there are a few papers submitted close to the conference dates, not all papers will be included in the handbooks. Be sure to check at the registration desk for all written materials submitted close to the conference date. Extra printed handbooks are available and can be ordered on the registration form.

New this year! Flashdrive Handbooks:

Each attendee who requests the written materials on a flashdrive instead of the printed handbook will receive a USB flashdrive at the conference. The use of these flashdrives will allow for more late papers to be included, but because some written materials are submitted very close to the conference dates, paper materials will also be provided at the conference. Therefore, new, CDs with the entire set of papers will be sent after the conference. Extra CD handbooks are available and can be ordered on the registration form.

Each meeting room will have power strips for laptops in the first two rows and last two rows of each room.

PHYSICAL AND FOOD NEEDS:

The registration form has a section for you to let us know of any physical needs you may have in order to comfortably attend the conference. You may also make special requests for food served at the two lunches. These requests must be made before the conference in order to allow the hotel staff to make suitable arrangements. We are not able to accommodate special meal requests made at the time of the lunches themselves. If you forget to make the special meal request, please contact Robert Achenbach at the registration desk and he will work with the hotel to meet your needs.

REGISTRATION

Please use the enclosed registration form to register yourself and any guest who wishes to attend the lunches and Friday evening reception. The form is also available on the AALA web site in a PDF file which may be filled out on your computer.

REGISTRATION FORM

Contact Hilton Hotel directly for reservations. Ph. 1-800-236-1592

This registration form is available online in a PDF file which can be filled out on your computer. <http://www.aglaw-assn.org>

DATES TO REMEMBER

September 27 – Hotel room block reservation deadline. Rooms may still be available after that date but not at the conference rate.

September 20 – Postmark date on which early registration discounts end. See registration fee schedule below.

October 10 – Date after which no full refunds for cancellation of registration. Your handbook will be sent to you after the conference.

October 12 – Registration receiving deadline. All registrations which could reach the AALA office after October 12 must be completed at the conference. If your registration may not reach the AALA office by October 12, please send an e-mail to RobertA@aglaw-assn.org of your intent to attend and I will try to get you all conference benefits. Walk-in registrations are accepted but we cannot guarantee that we will have seats or conference materials available at the conference.

CONFERENCE HANDBOOKS – Don't forget to make your choice; please read carefully to make your best choice

Each attendee has the option of (1) a handbook of the written presentation materials or (2) (new in 2011) a USB flashdrive with the written materials in PDF files. There will be a section of each conference room equipped with power strips to allow viewing of the handbook files on your laptop. Because there may be last minute submitted papers, the flashdrive provided at the conference may not have all submitted papers on it. After the conference, a new, complete CD will be sent to attendees who chose to receive the handbook on flashdrive. Extra CDs and printed conference handbooks are available for sale after the conference (see order form on the other side).

Please choose one:

I want the printed version of the conference handbook. Additional copies may be purchased on the other side of this form.

I want the USB flashdrive version of the handbook. No printed copies of the written materials or outlines will be included.
